Register now for the 2021 International Freezer Challenge!

This challenge is designed to encourage all laboratories to recognize the benefits of good cold storage management, such as:

- Removal of unneeded, unwanted, or non-viable samples from refrigeration units.
- Reduced costs associated with maintaining refrigeration units.
- Improved researcher access to laboratory samples and reagents.
- Development of ongoing cold storage management practices that support energy efficiency and maximize space utility.

The 2021 Freezer Challenge will take place from January 1, 2021 to July 1, 2021 Learn more...
