

February 2022 Newsletter

Join Lab Manager on beginning tomorrow for our Green Labs Digital Summit.

This free, virtual, two-day program will feature industry experts who will share their experiences in developing a more sustainable lab. They will offer advice, helpful strategies, and case studies to help you create a less wasteful, more efficient lab facility. Lab managers will learn new strategies to create a greener work environment, and will develop a sense of what questions to ask when implementing sustainable work processes and equipment.
